ACW Strengthens Technical Team through New Hires

Regional, 12 August 2010 – ACW Distribution has appointed Ivan Chee as Technical Manager and Jerry Chiang as Product/Technical Manager for Singapore and Malaysia respectively.

Ivan will be leading the core of the technical team and instrument growth in the area of technical support for both pre-sales and post-sales processes. Formerly from HP Enterprise Services, a multi-national corporation, Ivan boasts vast technical experiences both in hardware and software covering security, networking and storage. Ivan played a pivotal role in both the pre & post-sales support, leading a team of 49 engineers and is a secondment to ministries to the provision of technical consultancy, professional services and project management. Before joining HP, Ivan was with a leading data protection and storage specialist, also a pioneer in virtualization technology.

Jerry will be responsible in developing the product portfolios and crafting business strategies with new solutions to meet the functional and technical requirements sought after by channel partners and end customers in the Malaysia market. A Regional Consultant at Systex Group, where Jerry was previously at, he brings forth many years of industrial experience in the IT Securities Industry. Prior to this, Jerry was with Frontline Technologies Malaysia as lead Senior Engineer, where he gained exposure and experience in IT security by working with clients across the region. His strengths encompass strong pre-sales and consultancy skill, Network/System Security Audit & Vulnerability Assessment Certifications. Jerry is also certified with CWNP, CWNA, CWSP and CWNT and many more.

“The new hires are part of the growth strategy for ACW as we mark another milestone at reinforcing our presence in the South East Asia region.” said Chan Kok Lim, Managing Director, ACW Group. By being closer to our clients, we believe that a localized solutions and regional support team will enable us to deliver the proximity value to our customers and channel partners in the most efficient manner.
